AQUONIZE working principle

The working methodology and science behind AQUONIZE is very complicated backed by years of research and field validation.

To make understanding simple

AQUONIZE Water Conditioner is an online Electronic Impulse water conditioner.

AQUONIZE basically works on two principles

First principle by creating turbulence and vortex formation in online Impulse chamber and second working principle being developing strong electrical field around impulse chamber.

By combination of these two principles mineral particles in water separate as bondage breaks between water and minerals secondly bondage between mineral to mineral also weakens machining these minerals and salts pass through irrigation water with minimal interference.

Simply with the above working principle AQUONIZE makes Hard water to Soft Water a perfect fit for Domestic.

Just welcome AQUONIZE to your apartment complex, individual villa ,house and housing society .

AQUONIZE is one stop solution to all hard water problems.

THE SECRET OF BEAUTIFUL SKIN AND LUSTROUS HAIR

Complete Solution for HARD WATER Problems

Due to rapid urbanisation natural water sources are in great decline and dependence on underground water is increasing day by day.

As dependence on deep bore well water in raise we are left with no option than using this hard water for our daily routine.

For better living quality of water matters a lot.

It's a common observation in every household scaling of pipes and tapes, shower blockages, no shine of washed cloths or utensils, soaps and shampoos not giving proper foam, hair loss dull skin what not this list goes on and on...

Real culprit for all these problems is the water you are using it may be hard water or to make things till worse may be hard water with chlorine.

What is Hardness in Water?

In simple terms hard water is kind of water having huge amounts of dissolved calcium and magnesium. Due to this high calcium and magnesium content water becomes more turbidity and water molecule size increases there by water quality drops a lot. To understand water performance downs as water hardiness increases.

As per the available information water from 90% bore wells is hard water.

What is the solution for this hard water problem?

AQUONIZE Electronic Impulse Water Conditioners are the right solution to this Hard Water problem.

DOMESTIC -NANO

Its first of its kind Nano technology based micro water conditioner for house in use like

For RO water purifier, Water Chiller, washing machine, for dish washer, for steam bath, for individual bathroom, for kitchen sink etc..

An individual flat owner in an apartment complex can consider this option as per their practical issues.

SPECIAL NOTE

AQUONIZE is a very high end premium water conditioner made with years of research.

It comes under class of Electronic Impulse technology which our own developed technology. In market so many water conditioners are available based on copper coil technology, magnet based water conditioners which are very less efficient when compared to the technology we adapted. As all waters are not same all water conditioners are also not same!

Other traditional water conditioners works on principle of ion exchange involving resin and common salt. In these system calcium in water is replaced by sodium so that water hardness is reduced but this kind of water is okay for washing, cleaning and other domestic uses but sodium rich water is NOT fit for drinking and not advisable for bathing. Apart from this water conditioners need lot of maintenance ,service and lot of cost is involved for the regular purchase of salt and resin.
